

Windsor Metal Finishing is excited to announce that BEST Engineered Surface Technologies LLC; owned by Sowell & Co. a Dallas, Texas based family office, has acquired Windsor Metal Finishing as of June 1st, 2017.

BEST is "solely" focused on developing a large geographical footprint of coating and finishing companies that have a diverse and advanced portfolio of the latest technologies. BEST has not now or ever planned on acquiring machining or metal fabrication businesses.

We at Windsor believe that this focused vision of growth, both for our Kissimmee based business, as well as for our parent company BEST, will better position us to support our customers over the long term and establish us a market leader in quality and service in the coating and finishing industries.

Windsor Metal Finishing has plans to expand on this site and will be adding both similar and diverse technologies which will further enhance our capabilities to provide the latest in coating technologies in which to support our customer's needs and to respond to changing market demands.

During this ownership transition process, our team will be working diligently to ensure that it will be a seamless transition to our customers with minimal to no interruptions on our daily activities.

The Windsor Metal Finishing team remains dedicated to insuring that our customers receive the highest quality of workmanship with better than average market service levels.

Our TEAM wishes to thank you, our customers, for your past business and sincerely look forward to being of service in satisfying all of your coating and finishing needs in the future.
